For this virtual field trip, with the help of Google Arts & Culture, we visit some of the most famous theaters, concert halls, and opera houses around the world!

All of these places have stages…places where the people who work there can perform their talents in front of an audience.

Fun Fact:

The most recently built stage on our tour, Elphihrmonie, is only three years old. The oldest stage, the Colloseum, is almost 2,000 years old!

Use your observation skills:

- What is the same about each of these places?
- What is different?
- Can you find these places on a map or globe? How many different countries are represented?

Use your artistic skills:

- How might you recreate your own stage? What will you include?
- What is your talent?
- Plan a performance for your family on the stage you create!
